WILSON MEETS ROADS' HEADS

Tentative Plan Evolved by Committee Considered Today.

EIGHT-HOUR DAY PLAN

Proposal Provides for Increased Freight Rates to Recompense the Railroads.

Washington, Aug. 25.— Objections which developed last night at a meeting of railroad presidents and managers to points in the tentative plan evolved by the committee of eight presidents considering ways to avoid the threatened general strike, resulted in a further postponement of final action. The conference adjourned to meet again today and, as one president phrased it, the situation is such that "it may be settled in 20 minutes or the matter may go over until next week."

The special committee's plan, drafted after a week's consideration, would provide for granting an 8-hour "basic" day to the trainmen, but with assurance that every effort would be made by the Administration to secure a freight rate increase to recompense the roads, and further assurance that Congress would be asked to enact legislation to insure settlement of future labor disputes through an investigating commission.

The entire plan has not been laid before all the executives and managers, but its points have been discussed at the various conferences. It developed after last night's meeting that objection had been raised to the freight rate increase feature on at least two grounds, It was argued by some that there could be no assurance of a rate increase, because no on could say what the Interstate Commerce Commission might do, and that some of the most important shippers of the country already had made it plain that they were not in sympathy with any move which might mean a rate increase. It was pointed out also that although President Wilson had expressed his belief that such a rate increase should be granted if the 8-hour day were given the employes no one could tell how the next election was coming out, and that there could be by no possibility an increase before next March, or probably later.

Attention was called, too, to the fact that the commission hitherto had held that it could consider wage standards in dealing with proposed rate increases, although legislation by Congress might remove that difficulty.

The principal arguments against the idea of a permanent commission for the prevention or settlement of strikes were that it would almost certainly be fought by labor in Congress, and that while President Wilson might be entirely willing now to back such legislation he might not bein a position to do so when it was proposed. Representatives of the brotherhoods who heard of this phase of the plan were plainly against it. A counter suggestion was heard among the presidents that strike questions should be left to the Interstate Commerce Commission with power to investigate and make a public report of its findings with the strike held in abeyance pending the investigation.

The special committee's plan has been tentatively accepted by the committee of eight and it was the subject of today's conference at the White House. Its substance was communicated to the labor representatives through Judge William L. Chambers, of the Board of Mediation and Conciliation.

GERMANS EAT CROWS.

As a result of the scarcity of meat the Germans now literally "eat crow." In the southern part of the empire thousands of young crows are shot in the forests and on the fields and brought to the market of the cities.

The formerly despised birds are in great demand. At first they were sold for 12 1-2 cents apiece, but now they bring 25 cents. Their meat is said to have an excellent taste, resembling that of squabs.

BAR CHILDREN UNDER SIXTEEN

Adults Not Affected by Order of the State Board of Health

MANY ARE AFFECTED.

Old Dominion Closes Against the States of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Richmond, Aug. 25. (Special)—Absolute State quarantine against children under sixteen years of age who are residents of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania was yesterday declared by the State Board of Health at a called meeting, to become effective at 12:01 a. m. today.

Adults may enter the State without hindrance. Virginia children under 16 now in infected areas may enter the State, but must remain under two weeks quarantine. In exceptional cases, discretion is left with the State Health Commissioner to issue special orders to meet cases not provided for under the general quarantine regulations adopted yesterday.

The resolution adopted by the Board reads as follows:

"Believing that poliomyelitis among adults is rare enough to justify the feeling that from a quarantine standpoint it is negligible, and realizing that the age of selection is under 16 years, Therefore, be it resolved that the State Board of Health declare a quarantine against infected areas, such areas to be determined by the Commissioner of Health from time to time as he may deem it necessary.

"The provisions of this quarantine shall be as follows:

"No child under sixteen years of age not a resident of the State of Virginia, shall be admitted at all from infected areas.

"All children resident of Virginia and temporarily sojourning in infected areas shall be readmitted to the State only on the condition that they submit to two weeks absolute quarantine.

"The State Health Commissioner shall formulate special rules and orders accordingly and shall use discretionary power in issuing supplemental rules and orders for exceptional cases not covered by the quarantine."

As far as the public safety permits, no handicap has been put on general traffic and none will be imposed unless necessary. Virginia children who are now in areas infested with infantile paralysis will be allowed to return to the State if they submit to two weeks' quarantine.

RUSSIA AND THE JEWS.

There will be introduced in the Russian duma a bill to abolish the pale and give to Jews the same rights as other Russian subjects when that body convenes in November. This bill has the support of the progressive party in the duma, therefore, of the majority, It will contain three essential parts. The first has for its object the removal of the pale (within which the Jews of Russia, with few exceptions, have had to make their homes), thus enabling them to live wherever they choose. The second will remove some of the educational limitations placed on the Jew and the third will make it possible for him to choose any profession or trade he cares to .

An article in this column yesterday told of the modern spirit which is now animating the people of Russia. One of the best indications that the Muscovites are emerging from the mazes of mediaeval superstition is the fact that they realize that Israelites have rights they should respect. Many of this race who have recently left Russia and made their homes in this country are bitter against the Muscovites from the fact that they have been made footballs by them for centuries. As has been stated, Peter the Great experienced great trouble in forcing his subjects to discard petticoats and long whiskers. He should have attempted to remove Semitic prejudice from them also.

Alexandria City News Condensed

Cottage prayer meeting service will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Steel, 513 south Washington St.

The subject at the gospel tent last night was the "Seven Trumpets of Revelation." There was a large attendance. The subject to-night will be "The Proper Observance of the Sabbath."

Alexandria, as well as other cities of Virginia, was notified today that the quarantine regulations against infantile paralysis had become effective for the state of Virginia to-day at 12 noon, decision being reached at a called meeting of the State Board of Health which followed a meeting of health officers from the various cities of Virginia held this week. Dr. Edward A. Gorman, local health officer, stated to-day that Alexandria was considered by many physicians who attended the meeting of the municipal health officers during the week at Richmond, as one of the cities which first of all should be safeguarded by quarantine regulations, being situated on the northernmost border of Virginia, and it was primarily for the cities of Alexandria, Richmond and Norfolk that the quarantine regulations were strongly advised by the health officers and passed definitely by the State Board of Health at its called meeting, Norfolk being a port of entry for coast steamers and Richmond having extensive business interests with New York. Dr. Gorman, who attended the health officers' conference, was on the committee with Richmond, Norfolk and Newport News health commissioners who first brought forward the measure for quarantine regulations.

In compliance with a request of a member of the Fire Committe of Council, the Columbia engine was taken to Bryant's wharf yesterday afternoon and given a thorough test by W. H. It is expected that within the next two months, construction of the proposed new roundhouse of the Southern Railway in this city, will be commenced. It is the purpose of the railway company to build a joint roundhouse and coaling station, specifications calling for a roundhouse with thirty-two complete stalls for the storage of locomotives, and arrangements are being made to erect the two buildings just west of the National Cemetery.

A number of young men of this city have enrolled themselves as studenat the Virginia Military Institute for the coming session, which begins September 1, and are preparing to leave at that time. Barley, jr., will enter the freshman class, and James K. Reid is studying for entrance to the institute.

WAR PICTURES

Be your own "eye-witness' and do not miss seeing the most sensational photoplays ever exhibited of the world's great war, which will be shown at the Richmond Theatre tomorrow, Saturday night. These films which bear the title of "Germany's Battles at Verdun," were taken by order of the German general staff for the Imperial archives, so that they could record the achievements of their people in the greatest chapter of the world's history.

Here in America we cannot gain any real conception of what goes on in the great conflict across the seas, as we have to rely upo nreports and telegrams which either greatly exaggerate, or else have been savagely attacked by the censor's blue pencil. The pictures of the actual fighting are absolutely genuine, and were obtained by the use of long-range telescopic lenses from a great distance; it is clearly evident how very different these scenes are from the faked up and rehearsed effects in so-called war drama. Here in these films men are killed by the score, a Zeppelin destroyed, aeroplanes brought down, warships sunk in the Dardenelles; in fact, grim War in every phase of its tragic splendor passes before one's eyes.

It is a spcial tribute to the faithfulness of these films that a wounded officer from the Allied army in France, now in Alexandria has vouched for their accurancy.

In addition to the films already alluded to there will be exhibited several thousand feet of the first authentic pictures of Gen. Pershing's expedition in Mexico.

By slashing open with a pocket knife the wound caused by the bite of a copperhead moccasin snake on the foot of Gerald Gatewood, aged 12, Dr. Sheldon G. Davis, a dentist of Washington, saved the boy's life. The youngster, the son of an employe at Dr. Davis' bungalow, at Overall, was entering the screen door of the house, when he was attacked by the snake. His screams brought Dr. Davis and his uncle, Dr. Fremont D. Davis, of Minerva, Ohio, to the rescue. The boy was caried into the house. Dr. Davis slashed open the wound to cause bleeding, and adjusted an improvised compress to prevent the poison from being circulated. The boy is recovering.

WOULD NOT WIELD STICK.

Drunken and Disorderly Man Taxes Officer's Patience Yesterday Evening.

Occasionally a policeman is forced to use his baton upon a refractory prisoner in order to protect himself. A number of instances could be recalled which show that if officers had been minus their sticks while engaged in arresting certain desperadoes the law's representatives might have been killed. Many years ago an Alexandria policeman was shot and killed while engaged in keeping espionage upon two men who had, it was believed, came to this city from Washington one Saturday night, for the purpose of committing a robbery. On another occasion a burly negro attempted to slay an officer with an axe when the latter was about to arrest him. The officer used his stick in time to thwart the negro, and succeeded in knocking him down.

It often happens that when a man is brought through the streets bleeding from a blow a policeman's baton that people who know nothing whatever of the facts in the case express great sympathy for the prisoner and contempt for the officer. There may be cases when the use of the stick could have been avoided, but in the great majority of instances the officer resorts to his club only in self-defense.

Late yesterday afternoon an old offender named Louis Cavanaugh appeared on upper Duke street drunk. He was going from door to door, begging when Officer Henderson intercepted him. Cavanaugh objected to the officer's interference and resisted him until Henderson summoned a man who was nearby to assist him in conducting the obstreperous individual to the station house.

Although under arrest, the prisoner still resisted the officer, attempting to break away. Cavanaugh in the meantime made attempts to strike the officer, but the latter was on the alert and warded off his intended blows and succeeded in landing the man in the station house without causing him so much as a scratch. Cavanaugh cursed the city all the way to the station house.

People on the streets could not help noticing the patience of the officer under the circumstances. When brought before the bar this morning Cavanaugh was given 90 days in jail, and the City Sergeant was requested to notify the state authorities that Alexandria has another eligible for the roads.

WILL SUMMON GUADRS

State Authorities to be Notified That a Number of Eligible for Roads Are Here in Jail.

During the present summer a number of "undesirables" have been sentenced by the Police Court to serve 90 day terms in jail. Most of the subjects are chronic vagrants who prefer to be listed in that class. A few days ago a white man was sent to the workhouse for 90 days for vagrancy, being without a home and liable to become a charge upon the community. Upon being ensconced at the corporation farm he soon grew tired of agricultural life, and took French leave. He was picked up by the police and brought before the court, when he stated that he preferred finishing his sentence in jail, as he could not get along with the overseer of the poorhouse. He was accordingly sent to jail. The delinquent was averse to work, no matter how light, and desired to while away his time in idleness in jail.

An old offender, a white man, was arrested yesterday for drunken and disorderly conduct and vagrancy. He was sent up for ninety days. Jail officials were present at the session of the court this morning, and they were asked if any requisitions had been made for road service recently. The court was told that some time had elapsed since there had been any recruiting by the state authorities. It was suggested that word should be sent those officials immediately that Alexandria has a number of eligibles. The jail officials will notify them at once.

It has been stated several times recently by the Gazette that laborers are scarce in Alexandria. Able-bodied white and colored men can find employment if they look for it.

BRITISH MAKE 300-YARD GAIN

Take Maurepas Village and Hold All Advanced Positions

TEETH OF GREAT SAW.

Such is Suggested By Allies' Front in the Western War Zone by Recent Acquisitions.

London, Aug, 25—Marked gains for both the British and French are recorded in yesterday's official statements issued at London and Paris.

British troops have advanced 300 yards south of Thiepval, capturing a German trench 400 yards in length and many prisoners, while French troops have completed the occupation of Maurepas and carried their lines 200 meters beyond the town on a front of two kilometres, according to the Paris communication.

The French are violently bombarding the German lines from Estrees, which marks the southern extremity of their present offensive, to Lassigny, a distance of about 30 miles, according to the war correspondent of La Liberte, of Paris.

The correspondent says that heavy cannonading is in progress along a line from Vermandovillers through Ligons, Chaulnes and Roye, to Lassigny. The destructive French fire has drawn the German airmen across the French lines, contrary to their custom. They are apparently trying to reconnoiter the position of the Allied artillery.

"Several German ballons again have appeared in the air," says the correspondent, "but were withdrawn quickly when attacked by French airmen. Scouting machines sent out by the Germans were driven back after numerous air battles. The artillery action in the last 36 hours over the entire Somme front reached an extraordinary intensity. The German guns replied vigorously and some of their batteries were silenced."

The Germans launched Wednesday night a series of attacks against the British positions in the neighborhood of Guillemont and on French positions in the Soyacourt Woods, south of the Somme. All assaults failed with heavy losses to the assailants.

Positions between Fleury and Thiancourt, which had ben taken by the French, were shelled violently by the German guns. In this the French took more than 250 prisoners.

In the Champaigne, several German surprise attacks on a minor French post in the Tahure region were repulsed easily.

Berlin, Aug. 25— French infantry made several attacks Wednesday night in the region of Thiaumont work, northeast of Verdun. These assaults, the War Office reports, were unsuccessful.

French and British attacks on the Somme front yesterday were repulsed.

At the height of a severe thunder storm, which swept over Pennsylvania county Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. William Matherly, aged forty years, and Chester Motley, seventeen years old, were struck by lightning and instantly killed.

Government experts have been at West Point this week from the Bontanical Department of Agriculture, examining the fresh water marshes of the Pamunkey and Mattaponi rivers, to see if they are adapted for the culture of wild rice.

Tremin Armstrong, the ten-year-old son of Dr. T. E Armstrong was accidentally drowned in Hyco river, south of South Boston, this morning. His father was making a professional call in that section and his young son, who accompanied him, on reaching Hyco, went with some friends down to the river and in some way was walking out on the log projecting out on the river, when he lost his balance and fell in. He became entangled in some weeds and was drowned before assistance could be given him.

AUDITOR CANNOT RETURNS FEES

Congressional Incumbents Will Lose $150 Each by Law.

MR. POLLARD'S RULING

Holds That Fund of $1,350 Paid by Candidates Can Be Recovered Only From Legislature.

Richmond, Aug. 25.—Holding that relief can be obtained only through action of the General Assembly, Attorney-General John Garland Pollard yesterday decided that Auditor Moore has no warrant in law for returning to candidates, whose nominations were uncontested, fees deposited with the Auditor for the privilege of entering the August primary.

While recognizing the justice of the claim, Mr. Pollard holds that an officer to whom money is paid in pursuance of a statute is without warrant to make disposition of the money, unless authorized to do so by an act of the Legislature. The primary law itself makes no provision for the return of fees.

Counsel who filed a brief with the Attorney-General in support of the claim made by candidates that their money should be returned, contended that, inasmuch as the primary law of 1914 is silent on the subject, the act of 1912, providing for the return of fees where the nomination is uncontested, is still operative, and should prevail. They argued, further that the money was paid in to defray the expenses of a primary that was never held.

Mr. Pollard holds that the primary law of 1914, is complete in itself, entirely superseding the act of 1912, and that all provisions of the old law not carried into the new are, by implication, repealed. He holds also that fees are not required for the purpose of paying the expenses of the primary, inasmuch as they are paid to the State, while primary expenses are defrayed by cities and counties.

Mr. Pollard's decision will affect Senator Claude A. Swanson, Harry St. George Tucker, William A. Jones, Walter A. Watson, Carter Glass, James Hay, C. C. Carlin and Henry D. Flood, each of whom deposited wtih the Auditor the sum of $150 for the privilege of becoming a candidate for Congress in the August primary. Mr. Tucker put his entrance fee, pending a decision to enter the lists against Senator Swanson The decision was never made. The other candidates had no opposition, and asked for the return of their fees on this ground. The matter was referred to Mr. Pollard by Auditor Moore, who doubted his right to reimburse them.

In rendering his decision, Mr. Pollard cited the cases of Floyd W. King and A. J. Wedderburn, the latter of Alexandria, who, as candidates for Attorney-General and Lieutenant-Governor, respectively, paid their fees to enter the primary of 1913, but later withdrew their candidacy. A special act of the Legislature was required for their reimbursement.

Two men suspected of having attacked Miss Myra Marshall, 28 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall, of the Etna Mills section of King William county, occupy cells in the county jail. Harry Harrison, a negro, 30 years old, was taken into custody Wednesday night. Andrew White, a white man, was arrested yesterday. It is alleged that White and Harrison visited the Marshall home Wednesday while the other members were away attending church services. When detected by Miss Marshall and will doubtless have Marshall in the act of robbing the house they are alleged to have attacked her and then escaped. Though a deaf mute, Miss Marshall succeeded in notifying neighbors before the two men had been gone very long. Both men are alleged to have criminally assaulted Miss Marshall and will probably have to pay the death penalty if the heinous crime is fastened on them.

Strict Quarantine Highly Essential During Prevalence of Infantile Paralysis.

A meeting of the State Health Commissioner and the local Health Officers of the State was held in Richmond on Tuesday, August 22, in the Capitol building, to discuss all matters pertaining to the epidemic of infantile paralysis (acute anterior poliomyelitis). These officials were in session about five hours and the Health Commissioner appointed a committee to formulate plans and recommend rules and regulations to govern persons entering the state from infected areas.

This committee, consisting of Dr. E. C. Levy, City Health Officer of Richmond, Dr. T. E. Baird, Quarantine Officer of the port of Norfolk, and Dr. E. A. Gorman, Health Officer of Alexandria, after an hour's deliberation, presented to the conference the following report:

Your committee on rules and regulations, after such consideration as the limited time given would permit finds it impossible to present to your body definite recommendations in connection with the subject at issue, because (1) of the general lack of knowledge of the method of transmission of the disease in its epidemic from into new territory; (2) of the lack of any evidence that such quarantine that would be practicable to establish would prevent the admission into the state of infantile paralysis. Your committee, however, would recommend that the State Department of Health, within whose province the matter really lies and which, would ultimately be the governing body in matters pertaining to this disease, adopt necessary rules and regulations and forms of notification in accordance with the resolutions adopted at the conference of the State and Federal Health Officers held in Washington, D. C., August 17 and 18, 1916, with such further recommendations as may from time to time be deemed necessary.

Recommendations Committee State and Federal Officers:

The committee disapproves quarantine by one state against another state or quarantine by one community against another community in the same state. It is believed that the Federal Government through the Public Health Service, can perform all duties of notification and certification required in Interstate relations, in case of unusual prevalence of poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis), and that State Health Authorities can and should perform like services as between communities in the same state, during unusual prevalence of poliomyelitis.

Signed: John S. Fulton, T. D. Tuttle, H. M. Bracken, Ennion G. Williams, Chas. E. Banks.

To All Health Officers of Virginia.

The State Board of Health today declared quarantine as follows, effective at 12:01 a. m., Friday, August 25, 1916:

Persons under sixten years of age, and not residents of Virginia shall not be permitted to enter the State from the States of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Residents of Virginia, under sixteen years of age, now out of the State in infected areas will be re-admitted but will be subject to two weeks' quarantine at their Virginia destination.

Adults are not quarantined.

It is highly desirable that all the local quarantine conform to that of the State. Please use your efforts to that end and see that the quarantine prescribed above is enforced within your district.

Detailed suggestions and the full text of the regulations will be sent you tomorrow.

Very truly yours,
ENNION G. WILLIAMS,
State Health Commissioner.

WILL RETURN TONIGHT

Many Friends of Alexandria Firemen Prepare to Greet Them at Union Passenger Station

The Alexandria firemen who attended the meeting of the State Association at Harrisonburg this week, will return home about 9 o'clock tonight. Many people of this city will greet them when the train reaches the Union passenger depot.

Nearly 1,000 uniformed firemen were in line yesterday morning when the parade and trades display marched over the principal streets of Harrisonburg as the big feature of the second day of the convention was enacted.

Athletic events and baseball were features of the afternoon.

A band concert and fireworks display were given last night. The reel races will be run today.

Friendship Company, of Winchester won first prize as the best company in parade with band. For best company without band Hampton won.

Andrew Bell, of Harrisonburg, won the victrola as the most popular fireman in Virginia, receiving nearly 100,000 votes. More than 10,000 visitors were in Harrisonburg yesterday.

The firemen's relief feature, which has been before the convention for two years, was settled. It was decided to collect funds separate from the general association funds. The following committee will have charge of the relief matter: J. C. Clarity, Charlottesville; J. H. Redwood, Richmond; J. H. Trimyer, Alexandria; V. R. Walker, Portsmouth; Morris Spiro, Harrisonburg; Secretary J. E. Lee and Treasurer Williams.

MONEY FOR PENSIONERS

But Few Former Confederates in Alexandria Who Will Be Benefited by Fund.

Pension checks amounting to $470,000 have been made ready in Richmond by Pension Clerk Johnson for mailing September 1, from the office of Auditor C. Lee Moore to the 12,000 Confederate pensioners in Virginia.

The number of pensioners, Confederate veterans and their dependent widows, is about 200 fewer than a year ago. Despite the fact that there have been about a thousand deaths of those on the rolls some 800 have been added. There are many in Virginia who delay in making application for pension until every other resource has been exhausted and the fund provided by the State for its defenders promises aid in making the closing days of life easier to live.

Deaths of the pensioners grow in number each year and each year there are fewer names added to the rolls. Many veterans have passed beyond without ever having asked the State to aid them, but these leave dependents who are too aged and too infirm to battle with the world for existence unaided. To hundreds the pension roll is the last resort.

"I WISH EVERYBODY COULD KNOW WHAT A FINE THING IT IS"

Mr. Roulston Suffered From Acute Indigestion, Gastritis, and Constipation.

"When I began taking Dreco I was truly in a bad shape, but a few bottles have put me on my feet again and I feel I must tell everybody about it," said Mr. Jno. Roulston, of 623 Fifth street northeast, who has been baggagemaster on the Pennsylvania R. R. from Washington to New York for many years.

"For a number of years I have suffered from indigestion in the acute form. Any solid food would sour in my stomach, form gas and bloat me all up. Sometimes I'd have smothering spells and felt like my breath would stop. I got nervous and dizzy and right giddy headed, and never got a good full night's rest. At times I would be badly constipated, too.

"Nothing the doctors gave me seemed to do any good, and I kept growing worse. Several friends advised me to take Dreco, and it certainly is wonderful the way it has helped me—it was just what I needed. Before I finished the first bottle I could sleep better, my food did not cause the pains and gas as it formerly did, my constipation passed away. Am never bothered with the swiming in the head any more, and I breathe free and easy, and it's been many a day since I've felt as good as I do now. I'm more than grateful for what it has done for me and I wish everybody could know what a wonderful medicine it is."

There Is Actual Newness in the New Reed and Reed-Fiber Furniture for Fall

Some things are new only so far as new means being just constructed. This furniture is new in this respect, but it is also new in design. There are many numbers just added and never seen anywhere before. Every piece exhibits the fact that Furniture is more artistic, more homelike, more decorative and beautiful than it has been in years.

New Chairs and Rockers and a host of other new pieces. The popular light brown finish is going to be decidedly more popular this autumn, and for that reason you will find the majority of the showing in this tone.

The Reed-Fiber Rocker is priced at $9.75--a very interesting and unusual value.

ATLANTA AND ITS PEOPLE.

Residents of Alexandria have undoubtedly observed the words "Coca Cola" which adorn many of the drug store windows in the city. It is the name of a drink, but that is not the reason for this article. One of the facts which it is desired to impress on the mind of the reader is this:

The company that manufactures it for sale started business a few years ago with only a small capital. Today it is worth $6,572,647, and the firm frankly admits that advertising is responsible for it. And yet, some people who never made a success of anything they undertook, will tell you that advertising doesn't pay. The names of hundreds of concerns might be given that have and are making advertising pay and are building up a splendid business through its aid.

But that is not all of this story. Atlanta, the home of Coca Cola, down in Georgia, is noted as one of the best cities in all the southern country. Why? Because advertising and boosting did it. The city is made up of live people, and whenever you see a man from Atlanta you see an Atlanta booster. The traveling men, the laboring men, the millionaires, everybody who has a home in Atlanta, speaks in praise of the town—advertises the place—in season or out of season, at home or abroad. As a result people have been attracted there from outside who have established new industries and the city has grown and prospered.

This furnishes an example of one of the ways in which a town may be built up and any other place can win out just as our sister southern city has done if its residents have the will to do it.

THE VERA CRUZ "WAR"

The Philadelphia Record calls attention to the Republican orator who solemnly declared that the affair at Vera Cruz in which 19 Americans and more than 100 Mexicans were killed, was war; therefore Mr. Wilson did not keep the country out of war.

Our contemporary says the Republicans are welcome to their quibbling. It cannot make much impression on the public mind. The Germans have been losing about 1000 men killed every day since the war began. The total British casualties at Gallipoli were close to 100,000. If it is necessary for the Republican campaign to call an emergency in which 19 Americans were killed war will not do not fear that the people cannot discriminate between a war of one day at one point and a war of years over thousands of miles of territory.

The entire attitude of the Republicans toward the Vera Cruz affair is scandalous, disgraceful and in view of its subordination of national par-san interests it falls little short of treasonable. Consider what the affair was.

Mexican affronts to our officials, and disregard of the rights of Americans in Mexico, were so flagrant that when an officer and a boat's crew from an American man-of-war were arrested in the streets of Tampico. Admiral Mayo decided that something had got to be done about it that all Mexicans would know. Huerta apologized through diplomatic channels, but few Mexicans would know anything about the diplomatic correspondence; all knew, or would soon know with every embellishment of Spanish rhetoric, of the affront to our flag; and the Admiral determined that the reparation should be visible, even to Mexicans who can't read. He demanded the formal salute of the Stars and Stripes.

Now, suppose that the Wilson Administration had disavowed the demand and told Huerta that he need pay no attention to the Admiral; what would the Republicans have said about the indifference of a Democratic Administration to the national honor? The Administration supported the demand of the Admiral, and any Administration that had not done so would have been hooted out of power by the American people.

Huerta did not salute the flag. You cannot compel a man to do anything. But you can punish him for not doing it. Two heavy penalties fell upon Huerta. We took Vera Cruz and occupied it for several months, and all Mexico knew that we had taken its chief port because our flag had been insulted and the proper reparation had been refused. And a few months later Huerta found it necessary to abandon the country. The honor of the American flag was doubly vindicated.

"THE TRANSFORMATION."

Rollin Kirby has a cartoon in a recent issue of the New York World, which is labeled "The Transformation". It gives two views of Charles Evans Hughes which by way of subtitle might be called "Before and After." In the foreground appears a full-length, noble figure of the justice of the supreme court draped in the judicial robe, a law tome in his right hand, his left, slightly clenched, at his side. From the lapel of his gown is a disk bearing the legend "100 per cent judge." Calm strength and serenity of vision are denoted in the features. Slightly to the rear of this imposing representation is a smaller man, his frame exhibiting the reverse of poise, his features distorted, his mouth wide open, his right hand aloft waving a paper that says "Anything to beat Wilson." On his campaign hat is a cockade marked "suffrage amendment." His doubled up left fist is in the act of putting the "punch" in his platform oratory. The disk depending from his coat lapel reads "100 per cent candidate."

The Richmond Journal says that it is one of the most telling cartoons of the campaign, thus far, and it carries conviction, because alas, it portrays a striking truth. As the Journal observes, there is a wide gulf between Justice Hughes, the Man of Silence and Candidate Hughes, the Seeker for Votes. Even his best friends have admitted their disappointment at his speeches, the ineptness of his subjects traversed. When he confines himself to matters of national import, of philosophic weight, he is the Hughes of yore, the big man, the statesman; but when he is seen railing at the Wilson administration, descending to cheap politics to make a point, enlarging on the errors of his opponent and belittling his deeds of accomplishment, he presents so sorry a spectacle that one is subtly reminded of Hogarth's famous drawing of a common scold. Hughes the justice, the man admired of all the people, is fast becoming a memory only, a sad dream of a departed America gentleman. What we now see is Hughes, the restless chaser after votes, the defamer of a splendid American whose chief misfortune is that he is in the way of Hughes' attaining his present ambition that has been forced upon him and which he will, we fear, bitterly regret making his own before the campaign is much older.

Bernard J. Ruppert, aged 26, a carpenter, was killed about 12 o'clock Wednesday night on the national pike near Cumberland, Md., when the motorcycle he was riding collided with an automobile driven by E. Lee Combs, of Piedmont, W. Va. With Mr. Combs was Mrs. Combs and their child and Mr. and Mrs. John J. Cashman and their child, of Newark, Ohio. They were returning to Piedmont from Cumberland. Ruppert, who was moving at great speed struck the left side of the car. His skull was fractured, neck broken and left leg splintered. He was taken to a street car, but died before he reached the hospital.

NEWS OF THE DAY

King Ludwig III. of Bavaria has, it is reported, been stricken with apoplexy, and his condition is grave.

The Vossische Zeitung of Berlin states that 430,000 iron crosses have been distributed since the outbreak of the war.

Three trainmen were killed at Georgetown, near Easton, Pa., yesterday, when a Lehigh and New England engine, drawing a train of twelve freight cars, left the track and overturned.

The Danish Landsthing sat in committee yesterday afternoon and passed a resolution that if the sale of the Danish West Indies cannot be postponed until after the war the question shall be settled by general elections.

Eight men were killed and many more injured at the plant of the National Foundry Company at Erie, Pa., yesterday, as the result of the collapse of a trestle carrying two heavy cranes. The men who were working under the trestle were buried in the wreckage.

Six children and three adults are believed to have lost their lives from brush fires at MacKenzie, according to reports received at North Bay, Ontario, by officials of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway. Heavy losses of farm property and lumber are also reported from other sections.

The beard of the French soldiers is doomed in an army order directing that the men at the front shave all but mustaches. The beard of a trooper weighs on an average of 60 grammes. Wih two million men at the front this brings the aggregate weight to 120 tons. The object is to relieve the army of this considerable and useless weight.

Violet Bishop, of Boston, noted Radcliffe College beauty, whose figure was said by a number of sculptors to rival that of Venus, leaped from the fourth floor of the Presbyterian hospital in New York yesterday while delirious from pneumonia. She died half an hour later. Miss Bishop was twenty-one years old.

Thomas Blakely, 35 years old, while watching the fashion parade on the boardwalk at Atlantic City Wednesday night, drew a revolver from his pocket and killed himself by sending a bullet into his brain. A note to his wife in Philadelphia asked forgiveness and assigned ill health and lack of employment as the reason for ending his life.

Powerful Japanese shipping interests, it is said, have succeeded in securing a monopoly of the passenger and freight trade on the Pacific coast of South America, and a big share of the trade on the Atlantic coast. With the disappearance of the American flag from the Pacific, Japan has seized the opportunity to obtain for its maritime interests concessions of tremendous value from the South American Republics.

T. F. Duffy, an official of the International Iron Moulders' Union of North America, was arrested in Bridgeport, Conn., on a body writ yesterday, as a result of four suits brought by companies against their employes, who are on strike, and union officials. Duffy is in charge of a keeper, being unable to furnish bail, which was set at $50,000. It is claimed by the manufacturers that union officials and foundry employes conspired to prevent operation of the foundries.

Stephen M. Van Allen, a recluse who for more than two years had led a secluded life, haunting the North River, near New York, by night and day in a luxuriously furnished motor boat, shot himself to death on the boat yesterday. A note addressed to "my mother" said: "I have no money and no place to live." Van Allen bequeathed his body to a medical college. The cabin of his boat was inlaid with mother-of-pearl. Van Allen was prominent some years ago in New York sporting circles and was reputed to be a millionaire. He was manager of shows in Madison Square Garden and was an incorporator of the Garden Athletic Club, organized to promote boxing.

The Manassas Civic League has placed a public drinking fountain on the street corner opposite the Manassas postoffice.

Philadelphia's Leading Newspaper.

The Philadelphia Record has hundreds of regular readers who live far beyond the bounds of the wide territory which it particulary aims to serve. Not long ago the management of The Record addressed an inquiry to some of these distant readers asking them why they prefer The Record to other prominent newspapers published nearer to their homes. Here is a typical reply:.

"Because I regard your admirable journal as a fit newspaper for all the members of the home and domestic circle. It is comprehensive in it's scope, educational, non-sensational, judicious, fair, and, what it most commendable, clear and intelligible to the average as well as the most cultured mind. Moreover, in its arrangement of news topics, foreign, domestic, state and local, religious and secular, every item or topic may be so easily located. I have often observed in handing my copy to a friend how quickly the attention of the reader becomes fixed showing that The Record is not merely provincial or local in its scope, but satisfying to the wants of the general reader."

The qualities which give The Philadelphia Record precedence over other big city dailies in their own fields, make it doubly attractive to readers in the territory to which its news columns devote especial attention. The intelligent public demands character and backbone as well as enterprise and alertness of journalism, and it finds these indispensables in the daily and Sunday issues of Philadelphia's leading newspaper.

The average Sunday newspaper consists of about 10 per cent of meat, and 90 per cent. of fat, bone and gristle. The Sunday Record is all meat — a fact which obviously accounts for its enormous strides in circulation.

SLAVS OCCUPY MUSH.

Take Armenian Town After Administering Defeat to Turks.

Petrograd, Aug. 25.—Russian forces operating in Southern Turkish Armenia have reoccupied Mush, captured by the Turks on August 8, says an offical communication issued by the War Department. The statement adds the Russians captured 2,300 prisoners in the battle at Rachta, where, it was made known in an official statement issued earlier in the day, the Fourth Turkish Division was defeated and two regiments surrounded and captured.

Teutonic forces have begun determined attacks against the Russians who recently forced their way across to the west bank of the Stokhod in the vicinity of Budka-Chervische, northeast of Kovel. According to the announcement by the War Office, the attacking columns which opened their offensive Wednesday afternoon on the Russian positions near Tobol, in this sector, were repulsed by the Russian fire.

Berlin, Aug. 25.— The official announcement regarding operations on the eastern front is as follows:

"With the exception of minor successful engagements against Russian advanced troops, as a result of which prisoners and booty were brought in, there were no developments of importance."

Rome, Aug. 25.—The Italians are pressing their offensive movements at various points in the Dolomites along the far northerly portion of the Austro-Italian front and report occupation of new positions in the Fassa Alps.

"Small offensive operations by our troops," says the official statement, "give us possession of some new positions in the rough, mountainous area of the Fassa Alps.
